JANUARY 9, 2012 PROGRAM

JUDGING AND CRITIQUING

1. Judging and critiquing is a subjective thing. Our competitions do not allow enough time to do an extensive assessment of any image, but we would like to show you the thought processes of three judges so that our future judges can formulate their own evaluative techniques to use when they are called upon to participate in the competition.
2. Joe Wilson, Don Risi, and Janet Steyer will act as judges. They will score each photo and critique immediately after, telling why they scored the photograph the way that they did.
3. Each member may submit one digital image through the competition entry location on the Internet at: digitalcomp@metrocameraclub.org. We will accept the first fifty images and try to judge and critique as many as we can.
4. Entries submitted will not be eligible for later competitions, so submit images that have already been entered before or ones that you do not wish to submit later.

Projected Digital Image (PDI)

Jack DeLisle will present information for anyone interested in participating in the Projected Digital Image (PDI) competition. Jack will show how to rename, resize and submit your images for competition. We will also discuss some ways to improve your images using common software.

PHOTOGRAPHER OF THE MONTH-DECEMBER 2011

Carolanne Roach

My interest in photography started when I was in my 9th grade English class. Yes, I know, seems like a strange place for it to develop (no pun intended - wink) but that is where my love of photography took root. My 9th grade English teacher showed our class a picture of a building on the edge of a water front or so it looked because of his ability to catch a reflection off the granite in front of the building that made the granite look like water. I later embarked on the adventure of photography with my first photography class in 10th grade with a hand me down camera of my mom's when she was in college photography.

Though I didn't do much else with photography in high school, I later picked it back up thanks a photo exhibit in my university's library put on by the Tahlequah Camera Club that sparked my interest in picking up a camera again. In college I started concentrating my work on nature and macro. I later joined the Tahlequah Camera Club with my 35 mm Canon AE-1 and 3 lenses. Through the club, I learned the benefits of using color slide film over color print film, how to use a tripod and finally purchased one, and I expanded my lens set as well.

As my interests in photography grew, my mom's interest in photography rekindled and she delved into the world of digital photography with her Nikon D-100 and later D-80. With her interests in photography renewed, she and my family joined the Metro Camera Club to learn more about photography and challenge our creativity. Shortly after my mom started in on photography she started breeding dogs. Our combined love of photography was a natural fit for the pictures we started taking of her furry little friends. New challenges in photography and creativity were now expanding our need for more information. Please check out her beautiful photography on our website. (the editor)

PHOTOGRAPHER OF THE MONTH-January 2012

Walter Jacques

My first exposure to photography was as a 5 year old or so when my dad took my older brother and me into the kitchen that was all dark and masked off. There were pans of chemicals in the sink and he showed us how a picture would show up on a white piece of paper like magic. It overwhelmed me at the time, but I never forgot that moment of seeing the wonder of something I didn't understand at all.

Years later, in high school, I once snapped a photo of a friend that I wanted to see right away. I noticed an ad in the base newspaper (I was a Navy brat) that the base photo lab was going to be giving a free class on processing black and white film, which was what my photo was on. I took the class and instantly got hooked. Before long I was doing life-sized posters and cool reverse solarizations on Agfa Bromide #6 paper. Way cool. I ended up as a photographer for the school yearbook and newspaper and lived in the darkroom my senior year.

In college, I took a class under a pro named Tim Cox in Wise, Virginia. This was my first experience with having a pro explain things like what made a good image, how the brain sees images, etc. I shot a lot of Kodachrome 64 after that and loved it. Tim talked me into buying a Nikon FM, which was fully manual, the best way to learn.

Getting into a professional life after college, photography remained a love but sat on the back burner for years with the exception of the occasional photo of the kids or a scenery or macro shot here and there. Joining the Metro Camera Club and attending meetings has been a great experience by giving me the opportunity to learn from others, develop new skills and be inspired to get out more and do what I love to do. Today I shoot with a Nikon D300S and lighting with a pair of SB-800s and a pair of Alien Bees AB800s. Portraits are my photos of choice, but I also love macrophotography and still life. (his photography is also on the website)

Need your mugshot for the yearbook

The 2012 Metro Camera Club Year Book will feature a portrait of each member. Janet Steyer will be taking photos of members at the following meeting of those who wish to have their picture in the Year Book.

January 9, January 23, and February 13.

Janet welcomes any head shot photos members wishes to send to her.
