DIGITAL TREASURE HUNT

2011 Digital Treasure Hunt Categories

A. Intentional Merges. We are often coached to avoid merging elements within a photograph - for example, the infamous telephone pole growing from someone's head or a horizon line merged with a second photographic element. For this Treasure Hunt category, you'll need to break this rule and intentionally merge two or more elements or lines in the frame.

B. Steps/stairs/stairways. Steps or stairs are to be the major element in this category.

C. Squares. We've done circles, now we're doing squares.

General rules:

1. Four photographs for each of the three categories.

2. Entries due to the Treasure Hunt Chairman (Dennis Burian, 943-8620) on or before the May 23rd meeting. Entries can be mailed to Jack at the PDI site DIGITALCOMP@METROCAMERACLUB.ORG or brought to the meeting on a portable drive.

3. Photographs may be manipulated according to the same rules as the PDI competition. Cropping, dodging, burning, and adjustments for contrast and color saturation are allowed; moving elements within or between photographs is not.

4. Entries are to be named using the same general format as for PDI competition with commas separating the fields like so: DTH,CATEGORY,TITLE,FAMILY NAME,FIRST NAME,. So an entry for steps might look like this: DTH,B,STAIRWAY TO HEAVEN,JINGLEHEIMER,JOHN. DTH shows Jack that it is for the Digital Treasure Hunt and not for regular competition, B is the category for steps,the title of the photograph is "STAIRWAY TO HEAVEN" and the contestant is "JOHN JINGLEHEIMER". This year, titles are requested for category A so you can call attention to the merged elements and optional in the other categories.

Good luck and, as always, have fun with your camera.

PHOTOGRAPHER OF THE MONTH

Randy Carr

I've been a photographer beginning in the later 60's when I bought my first SLR in Hong Kong while on leave from Vietnam. After returning home I shot for the college I attended and was published in the local newspaper. Jumping ahead, I started shooting boxing about 4 years ago when I ran into a trainer I knew that was putting on an event at the Bricktown Convention Center. From that day forward I was hooked on shooting boxing. I put this article together for the PSA Journal that is to be published this year.

See the Metro Camera's Club Website for more information and pictures about Randy Carr.

Saturday, April 16th
FIELD TRIP
Oklahoma City Zoo

New 304 pound baby elephant to be named by the public.

We will meet at the zoo. It's located at 2000 Remington Place, directly south of Remington Park. The gates open a 9AM, but you might want to be there a bit early. I've heard that it's been crowded lately due to the number of people wanting to see the new elephant exhibit. Admission is $8...$5 for those age 65 or older.

Lunch will be around 12:30PM at Irma's Burger Shack. They are located at 1035 N.W. 63rd, just east of the intersection of N.W. 63rd and Western Ave. Point of Contact is Tommy Evans, Field Trip Chairman at:

Editor's Note: I will be celebrating my 38th Mother's Day this year. My son was only two days old (May 11) when I celebrated my first Mother's day in the hospital with my wonderful son, Jeremy Dean Burrows.

Randy's picture really touched my heart with this little boy facing a very big challenge.

Happy Mother's Day!!!
