PHOTOGRAPHER OF THE MONTH

June 2011

June Ranney, Charter Member since 1978

The world of photography opened to me as a child in the late 1920's when I was presented with a little red Kodak box camera. The Big Depression limited funds for film and to have film processed, and it was always a real treat when I was allowed to buy a roll and to see the final results. Over time the camera choice progressed to a Pentax MX 35mm camera which I used for many years.

Actually I knew very little about the principles of photography, simply snapping whatever interested me. And then in 1977 I read a newspaper article about the organization of a new camera club. I decided then that if I were to be taking pictures the rest of my life, I'd better gain some knowledge beyond the point-and-shoot. And so I joined and became a charter member of Metro Camera Club. I quickly became involved in photographing family, people, landscapes, my garden, inanimate objects, - whatever piqued my curiosity. Photographic insight developed to the point of setting up a dark room and enjoying that activity for a number of years. I have only recently dismantled the dark room with the digital world moving me in yet another direction. The photos here have been scanned from slides.

My philosophy is to shoot whatever you like and enjoy regardless of another's opinion of it's worth. I believe that photography encourages and enables one to see the world with a different and expanded point of view - seeing things perhaps otherwise completely overlooked - a new light, an object, an expression - truly an expanded universe.
