Show and Tell Program

October 12, 2009

Each presenter will have 10 minutes to show his work and answer questions.

Speakers: Carl Short Jr., Joe Wilson, Kaylee Howerton, Joe Spence

Carl Short Jr.

Subject "Using Shallow Depth of Field"

Summary : Shallow depth of field, sometimes called selective focus, is a great way to isolate a subject from a distracting foreground or background. when everything in a picture is equally sharp, the viewer gives equal attention to all parts of the scene. But if the main subject is sharp while the remainder of the photo is not, then the viewer is naturally drawn to the sharpest part of the picture.

Joe Wilson will be showing a number of his better slides with a brief description of why and how they were taken. The emphasis on composition, exposure and impact.

Kaylee Howerton is 16 years old and a Junior in high school. Kaylee has been home schooled since first grade. Her passion for photography started at the age of 11. She is currently pursuing her Graphic Communications degree through Francis Tuttle/OCCC. She has been involved in competitive photography for five years and has won numerous awards. Over the past year she has started her own photography business, Kaylee Rae Photography. Kaylee hopes you can feel her passion for this art when you see her photographs. MySpace.com/KayleeRaePhotography.

Joe Spence will be showing subjects pertaining to landscapes, sports, flowers and people.

Speaker: James Pratt

James Pratt will be showing fashion and portrait images with a motorcycle slant. As a commercial photographer James works extensively with motorcycle magazines and photographers to depict not only the equipment, but the lifestyle of riding motorcycles.

Speaker Charles Grubbs

I'm Charles Grubbs and I am addicted to photography, been that way for about 7 year's now. The training I have had in photography as been through my mistakes and reading as many books as I can. I have also learned a lot from our friends at the Metro Camera Club, especially the senior member's. For the Show & Tell Program I will be talking about photographing a smoke trail. The smoke comes from incense. One stick is all you need. The room cannot have any air movement as this affect your smoke greatly. I normally shoot ISO 200.f-8 @1/125 or slightly faster. You will need two strobes and an on camera flash. You will also need a very dark black cloth as a backdrop, I use black velvet. I will go into more detail or be glad to answer question's at the show.

Last PDI Competition of the year,
October 26!!!!

Judges for the competition will be Linda
James, Don Morris and David Nutter.
