We hope Metro offers you programs, information, and fellowship to further your interest and your enjoyment of photography.

Doug Hoke has been at the Oklahoman for 32 years and is currently the Director of Photography. He received his photojournalism degree from then Central State University. Doug was published in Sports Illustrated 20 consecutive years as well as most other major weekly magazines.

When The Oklahoman switched to all digital in 1997, Doug helped with the transition by learning the software and teaching the staff how to use it.

As The Oklahoman invests in their web site, NewsOK.com, more and more, he now works with his staff of 12 and the online editors to get as much multimedia content as possible on the web through breaking news photos, galleries, audio slide shows and video.

NEW YAHOO GROUP: THINGS TO DO IN OKLAHOMA

Dale and Lee Donlon, members of the Metro Camera Club, have started a website that they are hoping will be of interest to many of the club members. It is called InfoOK. It is a group in Yahoo Groups. It has a calendar that they are trying to fill with "Things To Do" around Oklahoma on the weekends. Especially things that may provide photography opportunities. They'd like to invite all club members to join the group, look for places of interest, and even post places and events that you know of.

To join, go to <http://groups.yahoo.com>, make yourself a Yahoo account (if you don't already have one), and search for group name InfoOK. There will be a button on that page that says "Join This Group". Click there and you'll be approved. If you need assistance, you can write them at shuchee@pldi.net or donlonlee@yahoo.com.

Right now, it only has events that they have been able to find, but as more people join and contribute, there will be more events listed.
